

Katie Massa Kennedy (WGA, SAG-AFTRA) is an acclaimed variety TV writer, columnist, copywriter & branding specialist, and children's book author.

"Pleasantly surprising" - The New York Times

"Edgy and dark intelligence" - L.A. Weekly

TV

Staff Writer @ the "Queen Latifah Show"

Writer/Comedy Producer @ "Wipeout" on ABC

Creator/Writer @ Oxygen's "Scrounge"

Writer @ "Nickelodeon Kids' Choice Awards"

Writer @ Oxygen's "Trackers"

Writer @ "Parental Discretion with Stefanie Wilder-Taylor" on Nickelodeon

Development/Writer @ TBS's "The Bubble"

Freelance Writer @ "Fashion Police!"

Writer/Producer @ "TMZ on TV"

JOURNALISM

Political & Feminism Contributor @ HuffingtonPost

Sports Columnist @ Manhasset Press

Pop Culture Contributor @ Biography.com

Parenting Contributor @ NickMom

COMMERCIAL

Katie has written branded content for GMC, Farmers Insurance, Lifetime, Scrubbing Bubbles, Cricket Wireless

GAMING

Staff Writer @ VideoJax pop culture platform (for the New York Post's PageSix.com)

Head Games Writer @ Activision ("Wipeout" franchise)

Games Writer @ Disney (Jonas Brothers, High School Musical, Hannah Montana, Cheetah Girls)

Games Writer @ Cadaco ("Absolutely You," "Animal Favorites")

ACCESSIBILITY

Audio Description Scriptwriter @ Deluxe Media

Closed-Captioning Writer @ CaptionMax

LIVE

Standup @ the Comedy Store, the Ice House, the Hollywood Improv, Catch a Rising Star. Featured on NBC's "Last Comic Standing"

Sketch @ the Groundlings, NBC performance showcase, Carolines on Broadway. Creator of the critically-acclaimed guerrilla series "Subway Soaps!" onboard the New York City subway

OTHER

Communications associate for Tracy Van Houten for Congress, speechwriter for the March for Science, children's book author ("Little Libby and the Right to Vote")

